MEMORANDUM

To: Montgomery College Colleagues

From: Dr. DeRionne P. Pollard, President

Subject: Annual Staff Professional Day Conference

College staff members are invited to attend the Annual Staff Professional Day Conference on Tuesday, May 22, 2012, at the Rockville Campus. The staff professional day committee has planned a special day that will allow us to reflect on the meaning of these words in our mission statement, “we empower,” “we enrich,” and “we are accountable.” Additionally, we will celebrate what S-T-A-F-F represents: that staff are Skillful, Talented, Accountable, Friendly, and Fortunate.

This event provides opportunities for staff professional development, personal enrichment, and team-building time together. In addition, as part of the day’s activities, the Procurement Office will sponsor a green products exhibit, where vendors present new and innovative energy-efficient products and services.

I encourage all staff to participate and I look forward to delivering remarks, as well as having an opportunity to visit with staff members. While College offices will remain open for business, I ask that supervisors work with employees to accommodate staff who would like to attend.

Thanks to all of the event organizers for their hard work in planning to make this celebration of all of our staff a special occasion.
